Support Holding

The stock market is holding at support so far and in fact had a nice bounce last week. It is still down 3% for the year, but this deficit should be erased over the following month.

The reason for the sell off was the same as what caused the sell off last year. Financial turmoil. Except this time the controversy is centered on Greece.

But the European Union has stepped up to address the issue.

Likewise Dubai world was an issue, but it too is offering about $0.65 on the dollar to solve its liquidity problems and debt.

Oh to be too big to fail, to pay off dollars of debt for pennies, to have access to the printing presses.

Anyway, the market seems to be assured that the financial problems won't spread and are contained.

The key to watch for now is whether the market opens the door to recovery highs on this rally or whether negative divergences get set up at the highs, which would portend a larger correction thereafter.

The chart is the daily S&P 500 with red smoothed line a 200-day moving average. The spikes on bottom are trading signals.

WEEKLY REVIEW and PREVIEW

Well, the high-yield fund is correcting a lot more than I expected, so the question to ask is whether something fundamental has changed. I do not think so. The economy continues to recover. The Fed is still in easing mode. So, I will buy more.

Likewise, I will move about 25% of the total portfolio into a short-term bond ETF.

Income Charts

PHB—high yield ETF.

Last signal-buy.

TIP—inflation protection ETF.

Current signal-buy.

BSV— short-term bond

Current signal-none. Buy.

Each chart shows daily prices (top portion), volume (bottom portion), a moving average (smoothed line on price portion, and red spikes. The spikes show potential places to buy and sell short. If the moving average is trending down, the spike shows a potential sell short. If the moving average is trending up, the spike shows a potential buy. The charts do not show selling or covering signals.

WEEKLY REVIEW

The market is bouncing back and I'll both buy another ETF and short another one.

The two columns to the left show the rankings of the equity oriented ETFs in our database through the previous Friday's close.

These rankings are based on momentum indicators around which we generally want to trade. Our general strategy is to invest with the stronger performing ETFs by investing with the main trend and against the minor trend down. This means that in a bear (down) market, we want to short the funds that rally against their main trend downward. In a bull market, we want to buy during selloffs with the main trend up.

Growth Charts

DSG- small cap growth ETF.
Current signal-buy.

XLP—consumer staples
Current signal-sell short.

IWR—Russell midcap
Current signal-buy.

Descriptions & Disclosures

PORTFOLIO DESCRIPTIONS (pages 2 and 3)

Our guiding goal is to provide the most return with the least risk consistently over time through bull and bear markets.

Income Portfolio, page2: Uses a proprietary selection methodology on all of the monitored bond-oriented ETFs to pick the top ETFs. I then use a proprietary timing model to decide whether to buy, sell, hold, or avoid.

Growth Portfolio, page 3: Uses the same methodologies as in the Income Portfolio, except as it is applied to stock-oriented ETFs.

All portfolios were started on 1/1/10 with $100,000.

Portfolio changes will usually be made at the close on Monday, unless otherwise noted in any emailed hotline update. Issues are normally posted on Mondays by 1:30pm est.

Portfolios are updated through the Friday close the week before.

Dividends are reinvested in additional shares. Commissions of $5/trade and short-term redemption charges, if any, are applied.

Interest is zero for the money market (cash) position.

SUBSCRIPTIONS: To receive ETF Selections & Timing, you may subscribe in one of three ways. You may subscribe on the web site InvestmentST.com using PayPal or call 1-800-800-6563 for Visa or MasterCard orders or send a check to the address on the front page. Subscriptions may be tax deductible.

The recurring monthly subscription is $24.00. An annual subscription is $240.00. Subscribers receive this weekly eNewsletter. There is no mailed issue. Subscribers retrieve the current weekly issue at the web site InvestmentST.com by logging in using a log in name and password.

Unless otherwise noted, the weekly eNewsletter is posted by 1:30 PM central time each Monday, except for holidays and then on Tuesday. It may contain actionable, specific buy or sell advice to take that day at the Monday close in each portfolio. Portfolio data will be updated through the previous Friday's close. Fund symbols, rather than names, are the official identification used for activity.

GUARANTEE: Subscriptions may be cancelled at any time. Annual subscriptions are refundable for the weekly term remaining with a four-week minimum charge, using a 52-week count. Monthly subscriptions just expire.
