Consolidation

Last week I was wondering where the stock market corrections went and when we'll see another one. The last decent drop was in February. Since then, it's been a near perfect week after week of gains to recovery highs. And now it's stalling, but one day drops and one day jumps do not an investment strategy make. Saw tooth action is not the type of correction I had in mind. But will it be the only kind?

Of course not, but it may be that way for the next week or two. Apparently there is much pent up demand for stocks from investors. Belief is coming back into vogue. Confidence is returning. And rightly so.

The leading economic indicators are up and up and up. Manufacturing expanded at the fastest rate in April since June 2004. The one all important,

WEEKLY REVIEW

Sell IYM and move the proceeds back to the money market.

See performance rankings of the equity oriented ETFs on page five.

Growth Charts

Each chart shows daily prices (top portion), volume (bottom portion), a moving average (smoothed line on price portion), a relative performance indicator between the ETF and S&P 500 (orange line), and red spikes. The spikes show potential buy and sell short signals. Generally speaking, it the moving average is trending down, but the ETF rallies, the spike shows a potential sell short. If the moving average is trending up, but the ETF declines, the spike shows a potential buy. The charts do not show selling or covering signals.

The two columns to the left show the rankings of the equity oriented ETFs in our database through the previous Friday's close.

These rankings are based on momentum indicators around which we generally want to trade. Our general strategy is to invest with the stronger performing ETFs by investing with the main trend and against the minor trend down. This means that in a bear (down) market, we want to short the funds that rally against their main trend downward. In a bull market, we want to buy during selloffs with the main trend up.

but lagging indicator, jobs, is finally beginning to show signs of improvement. The rate looks to be around 9.4%. Economic expansion is a reality.

What do people think, though, the stock market has always been a forecasting indicator and it is up some 50% from a year ago. But now that reality is catching up to that forecast and yet the forecaster continues up strongly, the implication is that the recovery will be stronger than previously anticipated.

So, expect the bull market to continue and hope for a nicer entry point for some cash.

Descriptions & Disclosures

PORTFOLIO DESCRIPTIONS (pages 2 and 3)

Our guiding goal is to provide the most return with the least risk consistently over time through bull and bear markets.

Income Portfolio, page2: Uses a proprietary selection methodology on all of the monitored bond-oriented ETFs to pick the top ETFs. I then use a proprietary timing model to decide whether to buy, sell, hold, or avoid.

Growth Portfolio, page 3: Uses the same methodologies as in the Income Portfolio, except as it is applied to stock-oriented ETFs.

All portfolios were started on 1/1/10 with $100,000.

Portfolio changes will usually be made at the close on Monday, unless otherwise noted in any emailed hotline update. Issues are normally posted on Mondays by 1:30pm cst.

Portfolios are updated through the Friday close the week before.

Dividends are reinvested in additional shares. Commissions of $5/trade and short-term redemption charges, if any, are applied. Interest is zero for the money market (cash) position.

SUBSCRIPTIONS: To receive ETF Selections & Timing, you may subscribe in one of three ways. You may subscribe on the web site InvestmentST.com using PayPal or call 1-800-800-6563 for Visa or MasterCard orders or send a check to the address on the front page. Subscriptions may be tax deductible.

The recurring monthly subscription is $24.00. An annual subscription is $240.00. Subscribers receive this weekly eNewsletter. There is no mailed issue. Subscribers retrieve the current weekly issue at the web site InvestmentST.com by logging in using a log in name and password.

Unless otherwise noted, the weekly eNewsletter is posted by 1:30 PM central time each Monday, except for holidays and then on Tuesday. It may contain actionable, specific buy or sell advice to take that day at the Monday close in each portfolio. Portfolio data will be updated through the previous Friday's close. Fund symbols, rather than names, are the official identification used for activity.

GUARANTEE: Subscriptions may be cancelled at any time. Annual subscriptions are refundable for the weekly term remaining with a four-week minimum charge, using a 52-week count. Monthly subscriptions just expire.
