The Fed Eases and the VIX Eases

The good news is the stock market continues its rally. The bad news is I'm only partially in. The moral is never to underestimate the power of the Federal Reserve. That moral was well-learned at the bottom in 2009, but with the market substantially higher, I wonder just how much more effective they can be. The answer is the rally we are in from the lows in late August as they announced quantitative easting II.

At the same time, however, the market will not go straight up forever. One measure of this is the VIX. I've included the VIX index on the chart below. VIX is a measure of expected market volatility. Generally the lower the VIX, the more complacency is in the market; it is due for a top. The higher the VIX, the more likely the market

The chart shows the daily S&P 500 with red smoothed line an 80-day moving average and orange line a relative comparison to the bond market. The lower part shows blue volume and red spikes as possible trading signals.

WEEKLY REVIEW and PREVIEW

The bond market continues to rally, except for Treasuries. You'd think with the Feb buying Treasuries that they'd be rallying too. None of the Treasury ETFs, however, have broken to new highs. Very odd.

International bonds (PCY) moved to a new high. The weak dollar was a contributing factor.

No changes for now.

Income Charts

PHB—high yield ETF.

11/8/10 Still looking strong.

11/1/10 Still in an uptrend 10/25/10 Needs to hold its intermediate-term up trend line.

10/18/10 Recovery highs.

10/4/10 Take further profits on the rally. 9/27 Take profits and redeploy as noted on page 2.

9/20 PHB is rallying back into resistance. I'll watch for more profit-taking points.

TIP—Treasury inflation protection

11/8/10 Consolidation phase.

11/1/10 Continue to hold. 10/25/10 Shot higher the past month. 10/18/10 Inflation fears pushing it up.

PCY—-Emerging Market Sovereign Debt

11/8/10 Hit the new high. See if the dollar has an oversold rally, which would pull this index lower.

11/1/10 Expecting another new high. 10/25/10 Higher highs and higher lows is bullish.

10/18/10 Nice trade.

10/4/10 Should make a new high, else consolidation period ahead.

9/27/10 Good buying opportunity.

Each chart shows daily prices (top portion), volume (bottom portion), a moving average (smoothed red line on price portion, a relative strength indicator between the ETF and AGG (Aggregated bond ETF) (orange line), and red spikes. The spikes show potential places to buy and sell short. If the moving average is trending down, the spike shows a potential sell shorts. If the moving average is trending up, the spike shows potential buys. The charts do not show selling or covering signals.

WEEKLY REVIEW

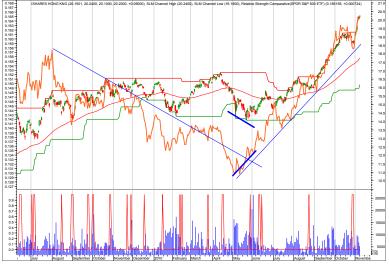

No changes. Still waiting for a pullback to reenter.

See performance rankings of the equity oriented ETFs on page six.

Growth Charts

XLU—-Utilities

11/8/10 Looking for that rally.

11/1/10 Will look to sell on a rally. 10/25/10 Lagging. Will look to sell. 10/18/10 No change. 10/4 Should perform relatively well.

IYM—-Basic Materials

11/8/10 Great ride. Watch for weakness as a signal to take profits.

11/1/10 Continue to hold.

10/25/10 Holding on.

10/18/10 Powering higher.

EWH—-Hong Kong

11/8/10 Hind sight is 20/20, but I'll be watching for more of these in the months and years ahead. Hong Kong has been outperforming the S&P 500 since May. The ETF EWH hit a new low back then, but the relative strength index strongly outperformed. EWH hit a new low, but outperformed at the same time. It's been a nice rally since then.

Each chart shows daily prices (top portion), volume (bottom portion), a moving average (smoothed red line on price portion), a relative performance indicator between the ETF and S&P 500 (orange line), and red spikes. The spikes show potential buy and sell short signals. Generally speaking, it the moving average is trending down, the spike shows a potential sell short. If the moving average is trending up, but the ETF declines, the spike shows a potential buy. The charts do not show selling or covering signals.

The two columns to the left show the rankings of the equity oriented ETFs in our database through the previous Friday's close.

These rankings are based on momentum indicators around which we generally want to trade. Our general strategy is to invest with the stronger performing ETFs by investing with the main trend and against the minor trend down. This means that in a bear (down) market, we want to short the funds that rally against their main trend downward. In a bull market, we want to buy during selloffs with the main trend up.

As shown on the chart on page one, in 2010 after the market rallies and complacency reenters, as measured when the VIX drops below 20, the market is near a top. That is the case now. As can also be seen, however, the timing is not precise, but the fall is sharp and substantial.

So, it is not the time on a short-term basis to chase the market higher. I still expect that sharp correction to materialize. At the same time, longer--term, because of the Fed, the market should move higher. I am sitting for now and will look to buy on a correction.

I am looking to make this newsletter more user-friendly and useful. Please send suggestions to SMcKee@InvestmentST.com.

Descriptions & Disclosures

PORTFOLIO DESCRIPTIONS (pages 2 and 3)

Our guiding goal is to provide the most return with the least risk consistently over time through bull and bear markets.

Income Portfolio, page2: Uses a proprietary selection methodology on all of the monitored bond-oriented ETFs to pick the top ETFs. I then use a proprietary timing model to decide whether to buy, sell, hold, or avoid.

Growth Portfolio, page 3: Uses the same methodologies as in the Income Portfolio, except as it is applied to stock-oriented ETFs.

All portfolios were started on 1/1/10 with $100,000.

Portfolio changes will usually be made at the close on Monday, unless otherwise noted in any emailed hotline update. Issues are normally posted on Mondays by 1:30pm cst.

Portfolios are updated through the Friday close the week before.

Dividends are reinvested in additional shares. Commissions of $5/trade and short-term redemption charges, if any, are applied. Interest is zero for the money market (cash) position.

SUBSCRIPTIONS: To receive ETF Selections & Timing, you may subscribe in one of three ways. You may subscribe on the web site InvestmentST.com using PayPal or call 1-800-800-6563 for Visa or MasterCard orders or send a check to the address on the front page. Subscriptions may be tax deductible.

The recurring monthly subscription is $24.00. An annual subscription is $240.00. Subscribers receive this weekly eNewsletter. There is no mailed issue. Subscribers retrieve the current weekly issue at the web site InvestmentST.com by logging in using a log in name and password.

Unless otherwise noted, the weekly eNewsletter is posted by 1:30 PM central time each Monday, except for holidays and then on Tuesday. It may contain actionable, specific buy or sell advice to take that day at the Monday close in each portfolio. Portfolio data will be updated through the previous Friday's close. Fund symbols, rather than names, are the official identification used for activity.

GUARANTEE: Subscriptions may be cancelled at any time. Annual subscriptions are refundable for the weekly term remaining with a four-week minimum charge, using a 52-week count. Monthly subscriptions just expire.
