War and Peace

So, and really, it is less of a big if at this stage, the 11 year war on terror with all of its costs are winding down to sustainable, if not more peace-time like, levels, if this is so, the question arises whether this will be a long-term positive or negative for the economy and stock market. On the surface, we'd think that all the government spending on defense would be good and cutbacks would be bad. For example, won't this be a negative for jobs? What happens to manufacturing? It seems as though spending cuts would automatically be negative. Generally, however, history says otherwise.

To be clear about this, I bring up this issue only within the context of secular bull and bear markets, as I've been talking about them the past few months. If we depart from war mode and move into peace time mode, then is this bullish or bearish for the next 15 to 25 years? So, let me hasten to add, I am not taking a moral stance here on war per se, but only speaking within the context of secular markets. We full well know the cost of freedom. So in general, are war times bullish or bearish for the stock market?

If we look at the three previous secular bear markets of the past 100 years, we find within them three dominate defining wars. We also find the wars all ended three, four, and seven years prior to the start of the following secular bull markets.

World War I ran from 1914 through 1918, within the confines of the secular bear market that lasted 15 years from 1906 to 1921. World War II ran from 1939 to 1945, also within the confines of the secular bear that lasted 20 years from 1929 to 1949. The Vietnam War ran from 1959-1975, with US involvement substantially increasing after 1965. This too was fairly well within the confines of the secular bear market that lasted 16 years from 1966 through 1982.

The fourth secular bear began in 2000 and continues to the present. The dominant war during this period, of course, has been the war on terror that began on 9/11/01. But, if and as it winds down, the redeployment of men, women, ideas, and capital will eventually be a major positive that will help propel us out of the secular bear and into the next secular bull market. Wars do not cause secular bears, but their endings may help to get us into secular bull markets.

AROUND THE CAMPFIRE

Vanguard fired AllianceBernstein as one of their managers. Perhaps the unsaid reason was they can abide years of yucky performance, but not all the recent personnel changes. Too funny. The people changes may solve the performance problem. Wrong time and reason.

Interest Rates and Bond Prices

For those buying 30 year Treasuries with a record low yield of 2.6%, I have one question, really?

What makes us think that the next 30 years will be like the previous 30? But wait. The last few years aren't like the last 30 years. Hence, neither should we expect the next 30 years to be like the previous three, but here we are with some of us locking in 2.6% for 30 years.

I suppose those on the other side of the trade, like new home buyers, are tickled pink about low rates. Maybe they're the right ones. But what happens if the economy turns up in the next few years? Rising interest costs, plus entitlement programs alone will eventually consume all tax revenue.

So, yeah, okay, we still have fiscal issues, maybe for a few more years it will be like the past few, until these things are solved. But 30?

The SLM Bond Market Timing Model shown on bottom part of chart above is an intermediate-term (weeks to months) forecasting tool of the direction of bond prices and yields, which move inversely. If you see this as a PDF file off the internet, the green bars are buy/hold, the red bars are sell/avoid signals. White spaces indicate that the previous signal is still in effect. If you see this as a printed version, sell signals are darker, buy signals are lighter. The model is based on the corporate bond market, not governments or high-yield.

MAAP: Income

No changes to the MAAP Income Portfolio. What's the old saying about a sold-out bull? Not that we are, but I remain bullish on bonds and look for a place to buy more. The Fed will continue operation twist and maintain low short-term rates at least through the end of 2014. Just a question of when to invest more. Watching for pullbacks and won't be chasing prices.

PORTFOLIO CHANGES: There were no portfolio changes last month.

WHAT TO DO NOW: TGCNX remained in the 3 comet category (middle 60% of all funds followed). It is now past its short-term holding period, so watch for an emailed hotline alert to sell it. The other seven equity or hybrid positions remained in the 5 or 4 categories (top 20%).

With the sell proceeds, the question arises whether to raise more cash, make a lateral move (buy a top 5% fund with the proceeds), or even invest more cash. See the timing page 7 for some observations.

Market Timing and Asset Allocation

Selecting Leaders by their risk-adjusted, relative performance

Whoever said stick with yucky performers? Not us.

The weekly chart below shows this idea. Two sectors (XLF financials and XLU utilities) over the last 10 years.

As you can see, diversifying for the sake of diversifying is not the best strategy. Nor is picking the laggards. Nor is staying with a laggard in hopes the same people will make adjustments to what they're doing.

The financials are still below where they were 10 years ago in 2003. The utilities are 50% higher. Even over the last four years, as shown by the two trend lines, the financials are still feeling the impact of the credit implosion of 2008, while utilities continue to trend higher.

Selecting is important. Evolve with the leaders who are "in tune" with the market today.

TIMING POSITIONS (Intermediate is weeks to months. Long term is months to years.)

STOCKS: Neutral intermediate-term Bearish long-term

GOLD: Neutral BONDS: Bullish

STOCK MARKET COMMENTS (SUM: 3 bull, 7 neutral, 2 bear)

US Gov. fiscal policy, bearish (fiscal cliff 4 months ahead).

Corporate activity bullish (wide profit margins, lean/mean attitude).

Economy, neutral (plodding along).

Inflation, neutral (moderate expectations of 2%, no surprises).

World input, bearish (Europe in recession, BRIC slowing).

Consumer, neutral (housing scraping bottom; job growth anemic).

Investor sentiment, neutral (public is bearish, pros are neutral).

Federal Reserve policy, bullish (maintain low rates across curve).

Market valuation, bullish (undervalued).

(35,000 projected on DJ Industrials) (PE at 13x, earnings yield at 6.4%).

Exogenous events, neutral (upside would be European debt solution).

Hedge fund/leverage risk, neutral (delivering, raising capital).

Technical, neutral, (leaning to bearish with negative divergences).

The more things change, the more they remain the same in so many of our timing inputs.

The ECB can talk all it wants, but little actual solution is shown.

Each minor rally sets up a further negative technical picture.

The fiscal cliff looms four months out, implying a recession straight ahead. The jobs picture is a lagging indicator at turns.

The public is bearish (which is bullish from a contrarian point of view), but professionals remain solidly in neutral territory.

The Fed continues to push on the string, which was working, but will it continue to work is the question.

So, no input changes.

Managed Asset Allocation Program (MAAP)

Fund Selection. We monitor about 800 funds and ETFs. We separate them into their Asset class (Equity, Hybrid, Bond). We subdivide them into Styles like small, large, value, international, etc.. Next, we rank the funds by their risk-adjusted (V volatility) relative performance to the market and peer group (CS). We then rank and pick them by that combined result C (risk adjusted relative performance).

Portfolio Allocation (market timing). We follow a straightforward approach to allocation: Overweight the Portfolio to the investment Style that is performing the strongest on a risk-adjusted basis. We also use contrary (bear market) funds, and cash (money market funds).

Diversification. We diversify by fund company, investment style, and asset class. The funds themselves normally reduce specific company risk, so that the main investment risk is the market's direction (up or down).

MAAP. Our Managed Asset Allocation Program brings our proprietary fund selection and market timing models together. We EVOLVE, buying from the top 5%, holding as long as the fund is in the top 20%. If it drops below 4 comets, we evolve, selling that fund and buying from the top 5% again. We overlay market timing on this fund selection evolution. The results are four portfolios shown on pages 5 and 6. See Scoreboard above for comparative performances.

Updates For NLMFS&T Newsletter

There were no changes to NLMFS&T Newsletter or the fund database last month.

So, with this space, I will take the opportunity to point out with interest that no more than one international fund has been on the buy list for more than a year now. See page 8 for the scoreboard coverage of the different performances between styles (large cap, small cap, international, etc). Good thing. At some point, this will change, but we'll let the markets tell us when.

Instruction Legend For Pages 10-26

Pages 10-26 list all of the funds that we track (about 800) in various categories. Pages 9-26 are electronic only (available on line at InvestmentST.com in PDF format); they are not included in the mailed version, which is the same pages 1-8. The two letters are identical, except for their length. The database of no-load funds and ETFs is separated into three primary asset types (Hybrid (H), Equity (E), Bond (B)). Fidelity Select Funds (select) are also separated into a type. That is four separate asset types.

The funds in each asset type are ranked by C, which is a fund's risk-adjusted relative performance. We assign the top 5% five comets (*****), the next 15% four comets (****), the middle 60% three comets (***), the lower 15% two comets (**), and the worst 5% one comet (*). This dynamic ranking system changes each month. The main selecting strategy is to buy from the top 5% of the funds in the NLMFS&T Newsletter and hold as long as the fund remains in the top 20% (first 5%, five *****, and next 15%, four ****). This 20% group is highlighted in green on the next 17 pages. When (not if) a fund falls out of that top grouping, it is time to sell and reenter with a fund picked from the top 5%. Each month go through your portfolio to see where your funds are ranked. Evolve out of the laggards into the leaders over time.

This buy/sell selecting decision, however, may be mitigated by a few things. We want diversification between styles (small cap, large cap, international, etc). We want to hold long enough to avoid short-term redemption charges by either the fund or broker. Taxes may also impact the decision. This selecting strategy may also be suspended during expected market timing considerations, such as an outright buy or sell. If we raise cash, for example, we may still sell a highly ranked fund.

Pages 10-26 are separated by asset type H, E, B, or Select and then sorted alphabetically by fund name. Hybrid funds are shown on page 10. Equity funds are on pages 11-18. Bond funds are on pages 19-20. Fidelity Select funds are on page 21 (this should provide a relative view of the comparative performance of different industries). ETFs are listed separately on page 22, but are ranked according to their overall database rank within the asset type. All listings are grouped roughly by fives. Pages 23-26 show only the American Century, Fidelity, T. Rowe Price, and Vanguard families, as they are ranked within the overall database rank.

This selecting and timing strategy is an active asset allocation process over time. It is not buy/hold/forget. We believe funds come into and out of prominence, that no single fund is right forever. We also believe the market has value, that there are times to be in the market and times to be out of the market. In summary, we simply, consistently strive to make money and not lose it over bull and bear markets.
